Lions Fourth Annual Drama Festival Opened Thursday Evening; Three Plays Each Night

Audience Asked to be Seated by 8 p.m.; Reserved Seat Tickets Have Brisk Sale.

Coleman Lions Fourth Annual Drama Festival will open tonight and continue tomorrow, Friday night. Doors will open each evening at 7.15 and the public is asked to be seated in the Community hall by 8 p.m. sharp. Three plays will be staged each evening, there being six entries from Cardston (2), Lethbridge, Bellevue-Hillcrest and Coleman (2).

The festival committee wishes to emphasize the importance of all being seated by 8 p.m. Once a play is in progress no member of the audience will be allowed to leave the hall, nor will anyone be allowed to enter, thus allowing all contestants an equal opportunity. Mr. Sidney Risk, B.A., M.A., adjudicator, will be on hand and will judge the winning play as well as the actor and actress giving the best performances in the festival. The two latter awards are being presented for the first time since the festival started in 1942.

The reserved seat ticket sale has been brisk for both evenings, and capacity audiences are expected.

The sterling performances given in the festival last year are still keenly remembered in the public mind and Coleman Players rose to great heights to win out against the Cardston Club. Several months of preparation by all entries will undoubtedly bring forth many more brilliant performances.

Canvass Now In Progress For Forthcoming Visit Of The T.B. Clinic, May 10

High School Girls Take on Job of Door-to-Door Canvass; All Citizens Asked to Co-operate to Make Clinic's Visit a Success

The big task of canvassing every home in Coleman and district to determine how many citizens desire to be X-rayed by the TB Mobile X-ray clinic started this week with high school girls students making the canvass. The clinic will arrive here on May 10 and can handle approximately 200 persons a day.

The young ladies will canvass in teams and each team will carry "request" cards on which the father or mother of each family will list the members they desire to be X-rayed.

Once the canvass has been completed the cards will be sorted and a time schedule drafted. Should anyone desiring to be X-rayed, be unable to call the first day, they should advise canvasser of that fact and list day and hour which would be most convenient to them and the committee will try to adhere to that particular time as closely as possible. It is expected the clinic will remain in Coleman from Wednesday to Saturday noon, May 9 to 12.

It is to be hoped that all citizens will co-operate to make the clinic's visit here a success. There should be no refusals to be X-rayed.

ed. All handlers of food should come. This would include employees of stores selling groceries, fruits, meats, baked goods, candies, milk, cream, cheese, etc.; employees of restaurants, hotels, beverage rooms, etc. There should be no absentees in these groups.

Fear may make a person refuse to sign for an X-ray. To those we ask that they give themselves peace of mind and make sure they are X-rayed. Possibly there is nothing physically the matter and the fear can be eliminated in a matter of two or three weeks. If something is the matter steps can be taken immediately to effect a cure. Everyone should register for the X-ray. It is the first time in the history of the town that local organizations have been successful in bringing such a valuable clinic to Coleman and the most should be made of it by the citizens as a whole.

COUNCIL ENDORSES SURVEY

The council of the Town of Coleman fully endorses the visit of the Tuberculosis Mobile X-ray unit to Coleman on Wednesday, May 10, and appeals to all citizens of Coleman and district to take full advantage of the clinic's visit here by registering for an X-ray examination.

Salvation Army To Celebrate 30th Anniversary

Lethbridge Citadel Band to be Present; Adjutant Cartmell to be Guest Speaker.

On Sunday, April 29, the Salvation Army is celebrating its 30th anniversary since its commencement in the Pass. The Lethbridge Citadel band will arrive Saturday evening and will be present all day Sunday, with Adjutant Cartmell as guest speaker.

On April 15, 1915, the Salvation Army opened first in Coleman. Dawned in brilliant red caps, Captain J. Acton (now commander of Newfoundland) and Lieut. T. Mundy (D.C. of Manitoba), from Toronto, presented a strange sight to Coleman citizens as they stepped on to the station platform. For many this was the first time the Salvation Army had been seen. Possibly some thought the Red army had arrived.

The first meetings were held in the old motion picture theatre and later in the bar room of the old Empire hotel. It was then a very poor building. The officers set to work, cleared out the old bar with its foot rail, bored holes in the floor for water to escape and then turned the hose on it and cleaned it out. The meetings soon proved that blessings would come from above, for every time it rained the roof leaked and poured down into the converted bar room.

Later, the 19th Battalion occupied rooms upstairs as a temporary barracks. What a din was made as scores of men paced the floor immediately above the heads of the congregations. This was endured, or rather suffered, for 18 months, then it was thought possible that the Army might build a hall of its own.

With the assistance of Commandant Lily Bryerton money was collected for a building. The site was given by the International Coal & Coke Co. A discarded meat shop from a road near the Frank Slide given by the late Pat Burns was dismantled, brought up the Pass and re-erected. This served the Army for many years, but in 1940 Captain F. Watson started another building fund and in the fall of 1943 Leakt. Marks opened the new Army hall on main street.

The Salvation Army has been able to carry on its work of spiritual and social amelioration in the district during the past thirty years largely because of the untiring co-operation shown by the people of the Crow's Nest Pass, which once was summarized by a leading Salvation Army officer when he said "The people of the Pass will kill one with kindness."

For the past we give God the glory, for the present we thank Him, for the future we trust in

PO. John Goldring Completes Tour; Tells Some Experiences

With the RCAF in Italy.—Of his 30 operational trips logged to date, PO John Goldring, of Coleman, Alberta, and Nanaimo, BC, rates two missions carried out against heavy flak opposition as most exciting. Goldring is rear-gunner in a RAF Liberator engaged in slashing German targets in northern Italy, the Balkans and Yugoslavia.

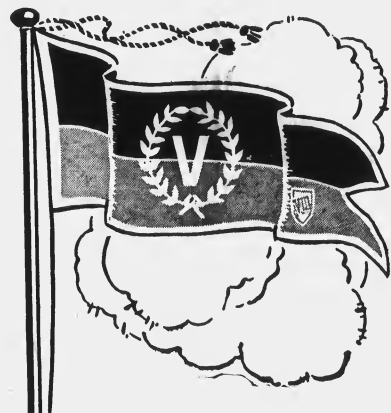

"We were plastering German columns retreating to the hills," he said, "while Jerry anti-aircraft gunners below were working trigger-fingers numb in a frantic attempt to keep us out of accurate bombing range. I was feeling a bit sorry for the harried Hun until a dirty burst of flak exploded just under my turret. Then I forgot all about the Jerry. We came out of the encounter with a fair chunk torn out of the Lib's right tail fin by a piece of shrapnel. Luckily the worst I got out of it was a severe shaking."

The other close shave was when the airfield at Scamothely, near Budapest, was still occupied by the Germans. "We bombed hell out of the drome," he recalled "but not without a couple of aircraft in our formation suffering serious damage from the terrific flak barrage sent up by enemy ack-ack crews."

Member of a crew that falls one short of being an all-RCAF gathering, the 22-year-old "tail-end-Charlie" opened his operational tour on Halifaxes from a base in England. His crew, who have flown together since operational training days in the UK, subsequently headed a Halifax for the Middle East and converted to Liberators, joining their present squadron six months later. Bridge-busting missions, attacks on marshalling yards and supply drops to Yugoslav Partisans have figured prominently in missions carried out by Goldring's crew.

His mighty wonder working power.—Contributed.

On Sunday April 29, at 3 p.m. in the IOOF hall, the Salvation Army will have a special meeting, with the Blairmore Welsh choir and the Lethbridge Citadel band in attendance and lecture by Adjutant Cartmell. The special meeting will be held in connection with the 30th anniversary.

Once again Coleman is piling up an impressive total in the first few days of the current Victory Loan. Monday and Tuesday saw $28,000 subscribed for an average daily total of $14,000.

Canvassers report that the welcome mat is placed at the entrance of every door and that little if any selling has to be done. One point they wish to again bring to the public's attention, and that is "call-backs." If a miner is on afternoon shift it would be appreciated by the loan committee and canvassers if that miner would talk over the bond purchase with his wife and arrange with her to buy the bond should he be absent when the canvassers call. In this manner a "call-back" can be eliminated.

The interest rate on the Eighth bond remains the same as those in the past, 3%. Their saleability is also the same. If the need ever arises through sickness or some other necessity the owner need only take a bond to the bank where he will secure his money, based on the market value of the bond.

Should the daily average of $14,000 be maintained, and there is no reason why it should not, Coleman's average over the top next week and the entire organization is aiming at this goal. Due to some of the canvassers taking part in the Drama Festival they will miss two days. However, this can be made up with additional hours canvassing at the week end.

Victory Loan Concert At Community Hall On Sunday; Pte. Irene Brennan And Doug. Moores To Speak

Doug. Moores
Local Talent to be Featured in Variety Program; Bond Drive's Progress to be Told.

On Sunday next a Victory Loan concert will be sponsored in the Community hall at 8.15 p.m. by the Coleman War Finance Committee. Principal speakers will be Pte. Irene Brennan, who only two weeks ago returned from overseas, and Douglas Moores who spent several years overseas with the RCAF and only a few months ago returned home. Wm. White, chairman of the local War Finance Committee, will be concert chairman. Also speaking on the program will be Frank Abousaffy, unit organizer.

The artists will come from Bellevue, Blairmore and Coleman, and include singers, dancers, violin and accordion players, bagpipes and drums, piano etc.

The Loan committee expresses its appreciation to the Canadian-Russian Federation for postponing its concert this Sunday evening in order that the Victory Loan concert could go on as scheduled.

RED CROSS SENDS $2,000 TO THE PROVINCIAL HEADQUARTERS

The local branch of the Canadian Red Cross held a meeting on Tuesday evening at which time it was decided to send a cheque totalling $2,000 to provincial headquarters at Calgary. This money was collected from Coleman and district in the recent national campaign.

S.L. Reeve Walker Addressed Citizens In Victory Loan Rally

Films Showed Actual War Scenes; Well Received by Almost Capacity Audience.

On Sunday evening in the Palace theatre S.L. Reeve Walker, DFC and bar, addressed a near capacity audience in behalf of the Coleman Victory Loan committee.

SL Walker gave figures on the cost of huge bombing planes and the fuel necessary to keep them flying. He also quoted figures on the cost of the average airman's clothing and equipment and explained why it was necessary that the money should be forthcoming in putting this Eighth Victory Loan over the top.

SL Walker had addressed Victory Loan rallies at both Blairmore and Bellevue and had been very well received by fairly good crowds.

The second speaker at the local theatre Sunday evening was Mr. Nick Alexewich, provincial organizer of the Ukrainian-Canadian Association with headquarters at Edmonton. Mr. Alexewich had been paying an official visit to the local branch of the association and his services were welcomed by the local War Finance Committee. Mr. Alexewich spoke five minutes to the audience in the Ukrainian language and told those who could understand the language the necessity of buying bonds during the Eighth Victory Loan campaign.

Thanks was expressed to Mrs. Wm. Cole for her co-operation in loaning the theatre and its facilities to the local committee, and also to the theatre staff, Miss Jean Jackson and Messrs. R. Shone and George Dibbille, for their co-operation in helping to put on the show.

The films were exceptionally good and showed the enormous work that went into preparation for the attack on Normandy, the vicious fight to win footholds on the French shore and various campaigns that eventually won for the Allies the greater part of France and part of Belgium.

To Organize Fish And Game Association Here

Meeting to be Held in Grand Union May 4; All Interested Invited to Attend.

Perry Knowles, engineer at Sentinel power plant, has stepped forward and has signified his intention of taking the lead in the formation of a fish and game association in Coleman. Mr. Knowles has caused to be printed posters, announcing a public meeting of all local sportsmen in the Grand Union hotel on Friday, May 4, for the purpose of organizing an association.

An association will be of inestimable value as it can put its weight behind the present agitation for a fish and game warden in the Pass; it can ask for increased numbers of small fry to be placed in local streams and lakes and, since fertilization of streams and lakes has caught the public fancy, there is the possibility of Pass fishing waters being fertilized.

In addition, ammunition can only be had by sportsmen who belong to a fish and game association. The association has the power to write the powers-that-be to reserve a certain amount of ammunition for members. Hillcrest and Blairmore members have already been allotted their ammunition.

Red Cross Notes

The local branch of the Canadian Red Cross shipped the following goods to provincial headquarters at Calgary on Tuesday, April 10:

Army: 14 pairs men's socks, 5 scarves, 2 sweaters, 30 handkerchiefs, 30 housewives.

Refugee: 1 man's overcoat, 1 jacket, 16 sets underwear, 1 pair pyjamas, 3 boys' shirts, 17 pair of hose, 6 vests, 1 pair of men's shoes, 3 pyjama tops, 2 pair men's pants, 2 boxes scrap, 1 bag fur, 1 blouse, 13 nightgowns, 3 boys' sweaters, 2 boys' pyjamas.

27 rolled bandages.

A very fine gift of clothing was received from the Frank Abousaffy store which was gratefully received by the work committee.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Extension of the trade agreement between Canada and Venezuela for another year has been announced.

Sixty-year old Alec Forbes, who has cast all Victoria Crosses for 40 years, has mended his 75th.

Dr. Hans Fischer, 64, who won the Nobel prize in chemistry in 1930 for work in blood analysis, is reported to have died in Munich.

In 1944, British Coastal Command aircraft sank 120,000 tons of enemy shipping, three destroyers and forty other vessels.

Nearly 4,000,000 tons of waste paper has been salvaged since the war began and now provides about two-thirds of Britain's requirements.

The Tass agency in a broadcast from Moscow said Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia had donated more than $40,000 for relief in German-occupied Soviet territory.

Iceland's first presidential election, set for June, need not be necessary. No oppositn appeared against incumbent Sveinn Bjornsson. The Constitution provides an election by acclamation.

Dr. Nevil Monroe Hopkins, 71, inventor and engineer, died recently in New York. Among his inventions he numbered a submersible battle cruiser and long-range naval and anti-aircraft guns.

A Russian-born Canadian scientist is conducting experiments at the University of Western Ontario on a new drug similar to penicillin, which is hoped to prove effective in the treatment of tuberculosis.

Cannot Be Believed

That 70,000,000 Germans Were Slaves Of Few Thousand Nazis

This is the time when it is important for all of us to understand fully that there is no noticeable distinction between a Nazi and a German.

Some thoughtless people, and some not so thoughtless, either carelessly or deliberately have implied that all this trouble has come about because a comparatively few evil-minded men calling themselves Nazis had seized control of the German state, that the German Government of Hitler and his fellow thugs really did not represent the masses of the German people.

We were to suppose, that is, that 70,000,000 kind, gentle, peace-loving Germans were slaves of a few thousand official members of the Nazi party and their secret police. Anybody who can believe that can believe anything.

In the last bloody stages of the war with Germany reeling towards utter catastrophe, there was not a sign, in all the confusion and break down of central authority, of any important anti-Nazi feeling within the Reich. The German army could have overthrown the Nazi system in an hour if it wished but it did nothing. The German civilians, having nothing to lose, could have risen in their might but, like docile sheep, they continued the hopeless war.

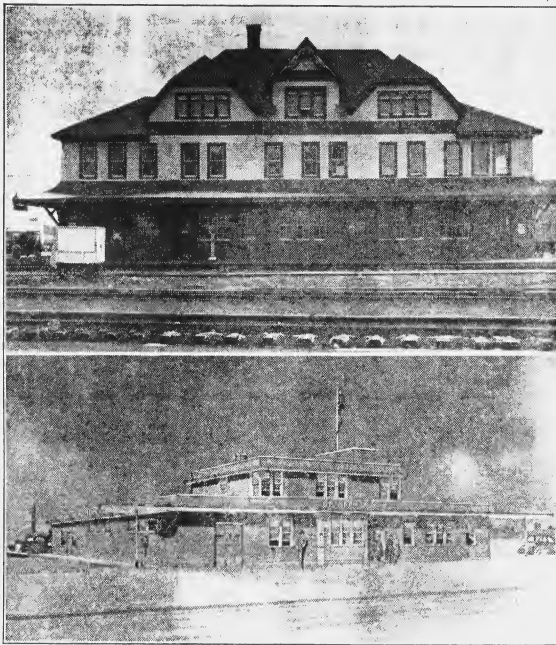

We are compelled to the conclusion that the German people have had, in Hitler, the government they wanted and deserved. To suggest that only the Nazis are bad Germans, that only Nazis have been guilty of inhuman crimes, is to swallow the propaganda which a beaten Germany and its friends will try to spread. STATIONS, OLD AND NEW—A widespread rehabilitation programme to modernize stations and other buildings is exemplified in the above two views of the Canadian Pacific Railway station at Cranbrook, B.C. At top is the station as it looks now, while below is an architect's drawing of the station as it will appear when alterations and renovations are completed this season. Cranbrook became an important divisional point when the Crows Nest Pass line was built in 1898, and is still a subdivision point. When the superintendency was merged with that of Nelson, B.C., about 15 years ago, however, the Cranbrook station had more office space on the upper floors than was needed. The transformation will include removal of most of the top structure, and an entire "face lifting" which will make the old-timers blink. The new building, of course, will be finished with fully-modern equipment, lighting and materials.

Radio Pool Discussed

Conference In London Outlined Plans To Benefit British Commonwealth

The rough outlines of a post-war scheme for pooling news and entertainment programs, staff and technical information among the United Kingdom, the Dominions and India was drafted at the Commonwealth broadcasting conference in London. "This was a family gathering at which general principles were discussed," said Howard Chase of Montreal, chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. "Details will be worked out later by each national radio organization and it is impossible to give details on such matters as the type of programs to be exchanged.

"The aim was to ensure the use of radio in the fullest possible manner for the benefit of the British Commonwealth as a whole."

The conference unanimously agreed that the co-operation of Commonwealth radio services should be "renewed and developed to the fullest possible extent," said W. J. Haley, CBC director-general, in a formal statement to the press.

PLANS ARE EXTENSIVE

The British Railways Air Committee has made public its plans for an extensive post-war air network linking Great Britain with the European continent and the Channel Isles, featuring plane service every half hour from London to Paris.

Save Handy Jars

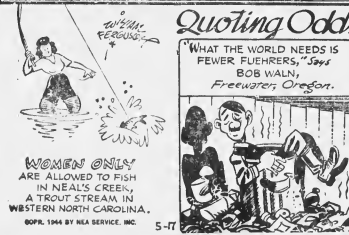

Many Uses Have Been Found For Cans Which Established World Record Was Deserving Of Banquet

Since suitable containers have shrunk so in supply with the war, it's a wise woman who knows the trick of converting these she has from one job to another. Large cold cream jars, for instance, make ideal containers for small pills. Glass marmalade jars with the addition of an enameled lid, make dainty containers for bath salts. Also, you'll find the man-of-the-house grateful for the odd glass container to hold tribute little to human needs, who are, nails, screws, etc., as these can be in fact, the stuffiest kind of "stuff" more readily identified than when shut. But this Alberta cow has hidden in a can or paper bag. Be done something. She is making her few converting the jar or bottle she has into a contribution to the needs of her country. Calgary does well to honor of cream, lotion or dried food her... as we would do well in future parlances. First, wash it thoroughly to reserve our enameled jars for those in hot water and grease dissolving who really deserve them. Halifax Herald.

SETTLEMENT AND STRUGGLES IN CANAAN

Memory Selection: Be strong and of good courage; be not affrighted, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. Joshua 1:9.
Lesson: Joshua 1:23-24; Judges 1:1-3; 7:6-7; 21:25; Ruth 1:1-2:23.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 37:1-31.

The Lesson Outline

The Death of Moses a Challenge. Moses had brought the Israelites to the land of Moab, "on this side Jordan's wave," within sight of Canaan, and there he died. "The people feared a crisis," writes Carson Blake. "Some were afraid, some found fault with God. Others wanted to turn back to the desert. But Joshua accepted God's challenge to leadership. In Moses' place he led the people across the river to the Promised Land."

Under Joshua's Leadership. Moses had brought the Israelites to the land of Moab "on this side Jordan's wave" within sight of Canaan, and there the wanderings ended. Joshua took up the great leader's task, and the conquest of the Promised Land began.

The Book of Joshua gives an orderly account of the crossing of the Jordan and the partial conquest and occupation of Canaan. Joshua and Caleb were the only Hebrews who left Egypt who lived to enter the Promised Land; all the others were of a new generation. Joshua had been Moses' helper and the people approved his choice as Moses' successor. "All that thou commanded us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us we will go," they assured him when he made known to them that he had been called of God to lead them into Canaan.

Joshua went forward courageously, for he was assured of God's presence with him: "As I was with Moses, so shall I be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee." And in his last days, when he was addressing farewell words to the leaders of Israel, Joshua testified that God is a covenant-keeping God: "Ye have seen, he told them, 'all that Jehovah your God hath done unto all these nations because of you; for Jehovah your God he it is that hath fought for you.'"

"A religious warrior is a peculiar character," observes Dr. W. G. Blaikie. He instances Gustavus Adolphus, Oliver Cromwell, Henry Havelock, General Gordon and has this to say of Joshua: "Joshua was of the same type, and we would like to know him more intimately, but this is denied us. He stands out to us simply as one of the military heroes of the Bible. In depth, in steadfastness, in endurance, his faith was not excelled by that of Abraham or Moses. The one conviction that dominated him was that he was called by God to his work."

MAGAZINES HEALTH COMMENTS ON CLAXTON ADDRESS

A brief address by the new Minister of National Health and Welfare, the Honorable Brooke Claxton, at the annual meeting of the Canadian Public Health Association was characterized by a spirit which deserves commendation, the Magazine Health comments editorially in the most recent issue. "Health" is the official publication of the Health League of Canada.

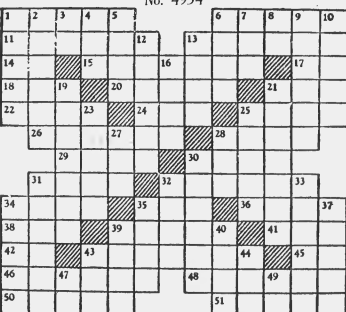

"He said in effect that in his new and responsible position he was the servant of the people, that he needed and desired the support of the great voluntary associations in the field of health and that already he had conferred with representatives of these associations in the hope of planning together for the health of the Canadian people," Health said.

"Governmental recognition of the importance of voluntary associations in the field of health and close co-operation between governments and voluntary associations have made for rapid progress in this field in Canada. This co-operation arises from the fact that governments with all the goodwill in the world, generally find it difficult to spend public money or pass legislation in pioneer fields (and health is still in many ways a pioneer field) unless and until public opinion has been prepared. The government with the most progressive outlook is likely to encourage voluntary co-operation with the idea of getting substantial and creditable results quickly.

"Mr. Claxton gives expression to principles which are particularly significant in times like these when people are so eager for a new and better world. Politics is not the science of staying in office, although this is a widely held opinion, but the science of building an ideal community. This was true even before Plato thought of it. Democracy is rule by the people—not rule by a few people who know more than the rest of us.

Canadian S.S. "Prince Henry" Now Serving With The Royal Navy

The "Prince Henry", which has been turned over to the Royal Navy for service against the Japanese, was once the flagship of the Canadian National Steamships fleet carrying thousands of tourists along the Pacific Coast to Alaska. Built in Birkenhead, England, she was launched in 1930, christened by Miss Isabel Macdonald, daughter of Ramsay Macdonald, then Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Built at about the same time were her two sister ships, the "Prince David" and the "Prince Robert". They were hailed as "the embodiment of everything that is the latest in ship construction," with luxurious accommodation for 374 first-class passengers. All three went to war and played a prominent part in the invasion of Europe.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

REMEMBER THE DATE

By MARCIA DAUGHTREY

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Ned Norton felt fine. He was getting home early for a change—it was only fifteen minutes to six. The late afternoon was crisply sunny with spring. Business was good, the office was humming, and he was in love with his wife a neat number named Blaire.

In addition to all that, he had sort of a minor romance. Not exactly a romance, either, because there was nothing serious on either his or the distasteful side. Still, there was something intensely pleasant about getting into the elevator at noon without knowing whether Miss Hathaway was the person who had rung the down button on the fifth floor. Sometimes it was; sometimes it wasn't.

But when it was she who stepped on the elevator, Ned unconsciously squared his shoulders while an inner ticsin began to ring. Nothing to it, really, he tried to tell himself, ignoring the warning.

Certainly, she had superb auburn hair, of course he liked to have the boys at the office chuckle afterward, "You certainly did sit opposite a nice dish this noon, Neddie old pal. How about giving a bachelor a break and taking me along some day?"

He could almost hear his ego purr, "Just an old friend of the family," he'd say, grinning. And back into the recesses of his mind marked "blivion" he would tuck a haunting memory of the way he had felt when a tendril of her perfume had floated past his nostrils; also of the way she sometimes looked up at him nowadays. It was all quite innocent, really.

So Ned Norton felt fine as he slammed the gate and scraped his feet dutifully before entering the service porch, not because his shoes were soiled but because this was an other of the small boy habits he had brought intact from a dominated childhood. Perhaps Miss Hathaway was his life's only rebellion against maternal and wifely authority. A rather fragile rebellion at that, he thought.

"Hi, beautiful," he called when the closed kitchen door brought no treble shout of greeting. He waited then sang out, "Come out, come out wherever you are."

Still no answer. That was odd. Blaire never planned to be away in the afternoon without telling him in minute detail where she was going and how long she would be gone.

Wandering into the living room, Ned found a chair on top of the lounge, and a vase topping the chair. In the vase was a note. That was Blaire for you: leave a note, and leave it with so much emphasis that no one on earth could miss it.

Ned was laughing silently as he unfolded the page and glanced at the ornate backhand: "Darling: I love you with all my heart but sometimes I wonder how you feel about me. I'm going away a little while to find out, Blaire."

Ned turned the note over and studied the blank opposite side as if he had come across an anagram whose answer would be found on the reverse. Then he returned to the script and read it again. Yes, it was exactly the same as it had been on first perusal.

This was fantastic. It was unbelievable. Blaire leaving him? What for?

They had had their arguments of course, who didn't? The overdrawn household account month before last, for instance. He had been rather caustic about it, he remembered. "Either you live within the budget, or I'll handle all the finances," he had threatened.

Blaire had pouted for a day, then had fun saving back the overdraft by feeding him fantastically cheap meals for a week. Good, though. Warm-hearted and sentimental; pranks and full of laughter—that was Blaire.

Abruptly, Ned sat down in the nearest chair as perspiration broke out on his forehead. Someone had seen him taking Miss Hathaway to lunch—on four times last week. Someone had been dog enough to tell Blaire. And Blaire, he'd heard that she was, had walked out on him without even a request for explanation!

Now that he thought of it, the thing would have been difficult to explain. How could a man say, April is already in my blood. I'm a victim of spring. No, that wouldn't do. Silently, he began cursing himself as a fool.

Well, he'd have to do something.

Dinling savagely, he called the station to check on northbound trains. Then he called the airport on the chance that Blaire had taken it big. He hung up in the middle of a series of frantic questions when he heard a suppressed chortle behind him. "Did I scare you?" giggled Blaire.

With one powerful gesture Ned gathered her into his arms and kissed her as he hadn't since honeymoon days. "What . . . in . . . the . . . world . . ." he murmured between kisses.

"April Fool! April Fool! Oh, Ned, if you could have seen your face! You looked as guilty as Jack the Ripper."

For an instant Ned was angry from his damp forehead to his chilly feet. He had an urge to turn her over his knee and give her a royal spanking. Yet if it hadn't been for his preoccupation with Miss Hathaway, he would have seen through Blaire's April First stunt instantly. Maybe this was simply one of life's stop lights.

The next time you pull a stunt like that," he said severely, "I'm going to tan your trousers. But tonight I'll take you out to dinner—and that's no April fool joke."

Will Take Years

Reconstruction Work In Liberated Europe Is Tremendous Task

It is estimated that it will take two years to rebuild the Ludendorf bridge at Remagen, over which the Allied forces in the west made their first crossing of the Rhine but which has since been wrecked as a result of enemy action. The estimate of two years to rebuild this one bridge gives some idea of the tremendous task of reconstruction which awaits Europe. In the liberated lands there is a vast deal of work to be done. This is perhaps especially true in war-torn Poland, Russia, Belgium and Holland.

SPRING TONIC FOR WINTER MEN'S

Has spring fever hit your household? If so, appetites are apt to be finicky. For that we present a change. A change of scenery in your menu!

Your family is accustomed to finding their breakfast cereal in a bowl. Surprise them some morning soon and serve that cereal in muffin form. These same crisp wheat flakes which taste so good with milk make a grand basis for a flaky muffin. They can be stirred up in a jiffy and baked in twenty short minutes.

Wheat Muffins
2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1 cup all-wheat flakes
½ cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
2½ teaspoons baking powder
Blend shortening and sugar together, add egg and beat well. Stir in slightly crumbled all wheat flakes and milk. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together, add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Other early vegetables that will stand some rough weather are spinach, radish and lettuce. Among the flowers are cosmos, marigolds, there are several types, poppies, allium, any of the perennials, nursery stock, etc.

For Early Corners

Usually there is one corner of the garden which dries up first in the spring and here, if one wants to make the earliest start possible, is where first vegetables or flowers should be planted. But it is most important, so say those who are fit to work. If it is the least muddy then it isn't ready and there is nothing to be gained, and much injury may result if digging or plowing is done too soon. Heavy soils, especially, if cultivated while still wet will bake into hard lumps and it may take weeks or even months of hard, back-breaking digging to break them up again.

MACHINE IS CHEAPER

A newly invented British pipe-cleaning machine was recently used to scrape a 26 mile strip of water main. This work normally took 65 men 12 days, at a cost of 20 cents a yard. The machine accomplished the whole in 18 hours (spread over at an approximate cost of two cents a yard).

DUKE MARLBOROUGH IN MONTREAL—The Duke of Marlborough, cousin of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, walks into the Montreal office of the British Overseas Airways Corporation (BOAC) to pick up his reservation ticket to the United Kingdom. It happened to be the first anniversary of the establishment of BOAC and—his was the 4,000th eastbound trans-Atlantic ticket issued in one year. The duke, right above, gets his ticket from Chief Traffic Officer H. J. Cooper.

A Letter of Appreciation to the many friends of Wrigley's Spearmint, Doublemint and "Juicy Fruit" Chewing Gum

WRIGLEY'S CHEWING GUM MANUFACTURERS

We want to thank spirit of all the people here at home for the fine that, for as long as possible, all the very best gum we could make would go only to our Armed Forces overseas and at sea.

With this in mind, and so that there can be no misunderstanding, we want you to know that we have now used up all our pre-war ingredients and that we have stopped making the well known trademarked brands of Wrigley's Spearmint, Doublemint and "Juicy Fruit" even for the Armed Forces overseas.

There will be no more chewing gum of these three famous brands and flavors for anyone until we can again make gum worthy of these three trademarked labels, which have always been your guarantee of uniform, finest quality and flavor.

Until we are making a plain but honest wartime brands we are making a plain but honest wartime chewing gum to help take care of both military and civilian needs. We are offering this gum to the public only on its own merit and for that reason it is not associated with any Wrigley standard brand but has its own brand name and flavors.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Not Discouraged

The fight of Pincher Creek and Crows' Nest Pass organizations to have the provincial government take greater interest in the highways through this section of the province, and particularly Number 3 highway, which is in an atrocious condition and should be hardsurfaced, is finding favor with citizens generally. Agitation received added support last week when wet weather made the road impassable and cars, trucks and even buses were mud-bound in the ditches and government machinery were brought into play to haul the stalled machines back onto the road.

The southern section of the Alberta Motor Association is now interested in this road, an official having had the experience of travelling over this mud-bed. The road has even been brought to the attention of Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken who has been asked by his supporters here to recognize it as a connecting link between national parks and should he gain power to build the road into a modern highway.

The Hon. Mr. Fallow's reply to the resolution sent from a recent meeting of interested organizations held three weeks ago at Frank was what was expected. "Neither manpower or material to put on this highway at the present time."

Despite this reply, however, no one is discouraged and will maintain agitation until the mud-bed becomes a modern highway to handle traffic twelve months in the year.

Let's Have a Successful Clinic

The success or failure of the TB Mobile X-ray clinic which is scheduled to visit Coleman next month now lies in the hands of the citizens. If all over 12 years of age sign to be X-rayed the clinic's visit will be a success. The committee estimates that 1,500 should register. Everyone that is X-rayed has everything to gain and nothing to lose. The utmost courtesy and consideration is extended to all who attend the clinic.

In the past many have complained that nothing of this nature ever visited the Pass. Much effort has been undertaken by public-spirited citizens to bring this unit to the Pass. Let us all make the most of the opportunity now that the unit is to definitely visit us.

Two Will Call

Soon there will be a knock at the door of the Canadian home. On the threshold will stand the Victory Loan salesman, confidently expecting an invitation to come in. It will be the eighth time that he knocks at the door and his confidence will not be badly founded. For more than three million Canadians have long since learned that he is indeed a friend and brings with him something of real value for the householder. The Victory Bonds he offers are now visualized everywhere as instruments to guide individuals towards a more secure post-war situation.

But let us not forget that there are two callers at the door when the salesman knocks. Behind him, in spirit, is the Canadian boy in uniform who is backing up the salesman in his effort to increase the size of individual Victory Bond purchases, not so much because of his concern for the future material benefits to the purchaser, but because those purchases help to guarantee the continued flow of arms and ammunition to the battlefronts.

The Canadian who decides to buy a hundred dollar Bond after listening to the Victory Loan salesman may change his mind if he looks over the shoulder of the salesman into the eyes of that sailor, soldier or airman who counts on folks at home to back up his efforts overseas. Such a look may prompt a two hundred dollar purchase.

Fish and Game Association

The attempts of one or two local sportsmen to have fish and game wardens established permanently in the Pass will be given added support shortly by the organization of a Fish and Game Association in Coleman. Already such associations are in action in Hillcrest and Blairmore.

If progress is to be made in having wardens here, establishing fish hatcheries, fertilizing streams and lakes in this area, it is necessary that proper machinery be set up so that a strong voice can be raised in order to draw attention from the proper authorities.

Those who have voiced approval of the actions of the small group of sportsmen who have tried to further the promotion of clean sport among anglers and hunters can now give practical support by becoming members of the proposed Coleman Fish and Game Association.

PRESENTS A REVIEW

STANLEY WYATT

In voting for STANLEY WYATT in the coming Dominion election you will be supporting a man who has resided in your riding for Forty-Three years, farming his original homestead at Claresholm along with his other land.

He came to Alberta as a young man alone, and earned his first money working on ranches at Pincher Creek and with the Canadian Pacific Railroad, helping to build the railway through the Frank Slide.

Who, besides making a success of his farm and ranch business, has given freely of his time as Rural Councillor of Clear Lake Municipality, as a member of the Claresholm Municipal Hospital Board, and while continuing to farm his land adjoining the Town of Claresholm, served six years as Mayor of the Town.

During his term of office as Mayor, which happened to be at the most difficult time of the depression, he gave the Town splendid administration and also reduced taxes every year he was in office.

As a rancher, Mr. Wyatt has had notable success. He has encouraged the auction method of the sale of beef cattle and is a Director of the Community Auction Sales, a co-operative cattle selling agency of Southern Alberta, believing this method of selling to be of benefit to the small producer. He is also a Director of the Western Stock Growers, a member of the United Farmers of Alberta and of the Alberta Wheat Pool.

Our candidate is sympathetic towards Labor. His long record of friendship and assistance toward his hired help proves this to be true.

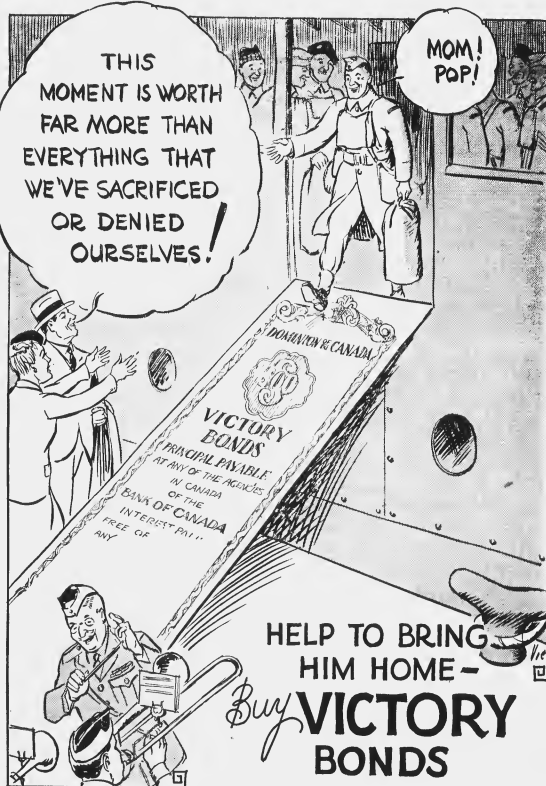

Mr. Wyatt believes that the civil re-establishment of the men in our fighting forces is perhaps Canada's greatest legislative problem. These men deserve the most generous and sympathetic treatment, and the Progressive Conservative Party, under the leadership of Mr. Bracken, who has three sons in the war, has already committed itself to see that no deserving fighting man can ever say that Canada failed him when the war is over.

Stanley Wyatt is a worker for the public good. His energy, ability and knowledge of this riding entitles him to your consideration in the next Dominion Election.

Sirs: I am receiving your most welcome smokes every month. I want to thank all who make these gifts possible. They are very much appreciated. Everything is going OK and by the look of the war now we should be home soon. Give my regards to all.—Dan Daly.

Cigarette Fund Notes

Dear Sirs: Just a line to thank you for your ever welcome cigs, which arrived at just the right moment, as I am on the move again. I have been on the look-out in hopes of meeting some of the local boys, but just can't seem to contact them. By the looks of things I don't think it will be too long before we shall see each other at home.—John Goldring.

Dear Sirs: Received 600 cigarettes today. Many thanks to your club and the people of Coleman for these generous gifts. I have completed my tour of "ops" and soon expect to be on my way home, so you now can discontinue sending me the cigs. Many, many thanks and I will be seeing you all very shortly.—W. G. Graham.

Dear Members: I received your latest gift of cigarettes. What can I say to express my gratitude? I wish I could tell you. My heart is full of gratitude, not only for the cigarettes (the Lord only knows how welcome they are), but knowing the people at home have not forgotten us over here and are treating us wonderfully.—G. D'Andrea.

Dear Sirs: Received cigs, for which I thank you very much. They arrived just before I left on a nine-day leave in England and sure came in handy.—W. Cieslak.

Stanley Wyatt Visited Here Last Week

Stanley Wyatt, of Clareholm and Progressive Conservative candidate for the Macleod federal riding, visited the Pass last week.

Aware of the agitation that has arisen here over the atrocious condition of Number 3 highway from Pincher Creek to the BC boundary, Mr. Wyatt took the opportunity to bring the condition of the road to Mr. John Bracken's attention when he was in conference with the latter in eastern Canada recently. He urged Mr. Bracken should the latter's party gain power, to consider this portion of No. 3 highway a vital link in the chain of roads that connect Canada's national parks. Mr. Wyatt gained the national Progressive Conservative leader's promise that should the party gain power consideration will be given this link of highway that helps to connect one national park to another.

SCHOOL SUMMER HOLIDAY PLANS COMPLETED

This week at Edmonton education minister R. Earl Ansley said final arrangements for closing of Alberta schools July 6 with reopening set for Sept. 10 have been completed. The summer holiday date for provincial schools were authorized at the recent session of legislature providing plans could be completed. Special arrangements have been made for the children of farmers to obtain leave from their classes during the harvest season next fall, the minister said.

INSURANCE BOOKS, 1944-45

Although the response by employers in renewing Unemployment Insurance books has been good, there are still a number of employers who have failed to forward their 1944-45 books.

Regulations require all insurance books in the employers' possession to be returned immediately after March 31st of each year. Prompt re-operation in this respect was requested and anyone still in possession of their last year's insurance book should contact the nearest employment and selective service office and arrange for its renewal or turn it into UIC office, Blairmore, Alberta.

NURSES' AIDES

Nurses' aides recommended as suitable by the St. John Ambulance nursing division or the Canadian Red Cross Society, and accepting employment in hospitals or with the Victorian Order of Nurses, are now eligible for the same benefits extended to graduate nurses.

These benefits include transportation to the place of employment and return transportation if remaining with the hospital for two months or longer, payment in lieu of wages for time lost owing to travel at the rate of forty cents per hour and six-day week for the time spent in travelling to the place of employment, separation allowance if required to live separately from persons who are dependent upon her for support, wage differential allowance, temporary advance for living expenses and temporary advance for uniforms. These same benefits are applicable to graduate nurses accepting employment with the Victorian Order of Nurses.

In all cases these girls will be eligible for reinstatement in their present employment upon termination of their work in hospitals. The need for nurses' aides and the tangible advantages to the girls undertaking this work are many. It is also pointed out that women who have already embarked on such a career, the intangible rewards of serving mankind and contributing to the alleviation of suffering, had given them a greater satisfaction than any material consideration.

Lions To Approach Students To Take An Interest In Gardening

Coleman Lions have failed to meet with much response to Coleman youth to take an interest in gardening and enter the Lions garden contest. Only two entries were received and it was decided that they were not sufficient to sponsor the contest.

At least twelve entries must be received before the contest will be launched. Committee chairman Adam Wilson and Harold Houghton will endeavor to address the students and show the advantages and pleasure to be derived from tending a garden plot of their own. Seeds will be provided by the Lions club and prizes will be awarded at the end of the growing season to those contestants, who in the eyes of local judges, grew the best vegetables and flowers.

There is still time to enter.

Place entries with Adam Wilson.

about SUGAR FOR CANNING

For tasty, nourishing and economical winter desserts, most Canadian housewives will again do some preserving this year...jams, jellies and all kinds of fresh fruits.

Sugar is still very scarce. We must continue to conserve our supplies.

This year, the allowance for home canning will be the same as in 1944—ten pounds per person. Be sure to use your ration sparingly.

HOW TO GET SUGAR FOR CANNING

Instead of special home canning sugar coupons, twenty extra preserves coupons in Ration Book No 5 are being made available for the purchase of sugar for canning.

These coupons are good for half a pound of sugar each or the stated value in commercial preserves, for they are the same as any of your preserves coupons.

You may use any other valid preserves coupons to purchase sugar, also at half a pound each.

No exchange is necessary. Your grocer will accept any valid preserves coupons when you purchase sugar for canning.

There are now only two kinds of coupons for sugar. The regular sugar coupon, good for one pound of sugar, and the preserves coupon, worth half a pound of sugar.

San Francisco

History unfolds like a great drama, for long periods slowly developing and now moving at bewildering speed with triumphs, with tragic turns and contrasts. While one act in Europe draws to a close, the stage is already being set for the next scene at San Francisco. Is it to be another tragedy? Or the foundations of a world at peace?

In millions of people hopes are high, longings are deep. But memories haunt us of the last peace lost and this time already there are many disquieting signs. The forthcoming conference has already focused many grievances, mistrusts and differences, both between and within nations—of the uninvited who clamor to be there and the invited who would rather take no responsibility, of politicians committed to directly opposing policies.

We, too, readily think of ourselves as only spectators in this great drama. Reading the morning paper gives the same thrill as watching the last rounds of a hockey match with our side winning. But we are actors, too.

Generals may map a campaign, but the war is won by the millions of ordinary soldiers. So statesmen make out-war plans, but the peace has to be lived by millions of ordinary citizens. The real job of peace-making has to go on here in Canada—between labor and management, race and race, neighbor and neighbor, husband and wife and children. For the multiplication of these private wars build up to war as we have known it today.

Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of the Oxford Group, who 25 years ago said that the last peace settlements left untouched the real causes of war, said in a world broadcast at the beginning of this war:

"The world must declare a world moratorium on hate and fear, personally and nationally. The new peace pact might have as its preamble that all contracting parties, all nations, live on a basis of no hate, no fear, no greed; and the necessary prelude to this happier pact is that all of us begin that new quality of living now and do not postpone it for some future armistice. Then we shall be true patriots; then there will be law and order in the world, within our hearts and our nation; then we shall be able to say, 'Behold how these nations love one another.'"

There is someone over yonder
Fighting to keep you free.
There is someone over yonder
Fighting patiently.
No regular hours for rest or sleep,
Ploughing through mud and rivers deep,
Fighting, dying, wounded sore,
Brother, sister, here's the score:
Let's do our bit while he's away—
Put all our cash in Bonds today.

Bank Clerk Received Awards From Employers

Brigadier-General D. C. Draper,
Chief Constable,
Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

I am happy to have received a generous reward of $200 from the Toronto Police Commissioners in connection with the bank hold-up at Dundas Street and Ossington Avenue in March of last year. At the same time, I feel that The Canadian Bankers' Association has suffered unjustly in the resultant publicity. The implication has been conveyed, doubtless inadvertently, that the Association should have rewarded me.

The facts are that I have been excellently dealt with by my employers, The Bank of Toronto, in this very matter. After the hold-up in which I was injured my hospitalization was paid by the Bank. I was given an extended leave, and my expenses paid on a holiday trip covering some three months. On my return, the Bank compensated me to the extent of $2,000 in cash. Following this I was promoted and my salary has been increased. My employers asked me not to give publicity to these rewards, but I feel it necessary in the present circumstances to mention them.

As I have previously stated, bank employees are not eligible for Association rewards, which are intended for the general public. Each individual bank is left to reward its own employees. This arrangement is no doubt based on considerations of public safety.

I am handing a copy of this letter to the press and respectfully ask you to bring it to the attention of the Police Commission.

Yours truly,
(Sgd) Douglas S. King.

Report Reveals Vast Scale Of Operations

The Annual Report of Imperial Oil is a dramatically illustrated booklet, with pictures that cover the Company's vast operations throughout Canada and in the South American republics of Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru.

In 1944 the Company sold nearly one billion 400 million gallons of petroleum products in Canada. For this it received 183 million dollars, out of which it paid 128 million for raw materials, freight and sales taxes; 36 million for operating expenses, including wages, and nine million for income taxes. Its net profit from producing, transporting, refining and distributing these products was just under ten million dollars or equivalent to a little less than three quarters of a cent per gallon.

Canada's Export Trade

THE PROSPECTS FOR WORLD TRADE in the years following the war are of interest to many nations at the present time. There are some who feel that there may be an immediate return to conditions of unfriendly rivalry and "cut-throat" competition such as have existed in the past, and which without doubt were among the causes which led up to the Second World War. There is good reason to hope, however, that recommendations made at the Dumbarton Oaks Conference, and the principles laid down in the Atlantic Charter, will be taken into consideration when international trade relations are again established on a peacetime basis, and that the mistakes of the past will not be repeated. On the success of this undertaking will depend the economic well being of millions of people, and in a large measure, the hope for permanent world peace.

New Markets In The Future

As a result of wartime industrial expansion Canada is now one of the world's greatest producing nations, and as such, has a vital interest in the future of international trade. Obviously there will be a great demand for some time to come in Great Britain and Europe for food and other Canadian products. It is also expected that there will be equally extensive markets for our goods in the Orient and in South America. In order to successfully maintain these markets, however, Canadian economists point out that it will be necessary for us to produce goods which are acceptable on foreign markets. They also warn that if we hope to export on a large scale, we must be prepared to import, especially from those countries whose financial resources have been seriously depleted during the war, and who will be averse to building up large unfavourable trade balances in the future.

Producers Must Work Together

The question of increasing our imports is an involved one, bringing up such subjects as large scale immigration and other methods of creating more buying power here. Less complicated is the problem of producing goods acceptable to those countries who are our customers. In this connection, Dr. G. S. H. Barton, Deputy Minister of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, recently appealed to Canadian farmers to plan their production this year with the needs of Britain in mind, since that country now constitutes a large and important market for Canadian food products. Dr. Barton's appeal for the farmers to take measures to increase livestock production to meet the needs of Britain in this and succeeding years, is an example of how Canadian producers may work together to keep our export trade at a high level, and thus benefit themselves and the nation as a whole.

Cause Of Shortages

Due To Greater Demand And Decreased Production Of Goods

Last year Canada produced 9,000,000 pairs of children's shoes, as compared with 5,000,000 in 1939, and children's underwear production was 43 per cent. higher than before the war, and production cannot be further increased at present. These facts were pointed out at a recent meeting of the Toronto Consumer Board, Committee liaison officers in W.P.T.B. offices.

Reason for shortages in these and other commodities, they explained, is increased consumer demand for better things and distribution difficulties. People have more money to buy better shoes for their children, for instance, and busy war working mothers have less time to make, patch and mend their underwear.

The climate on the Pacific coast has a great effect on the cotton shortage as uniforms "just rot and have to be replaced at a tremendous rate," stated Mrs. Dallanore, speaking of shortages in general.

Looking at the overall picture and taking into consideration Canada's "magnificent war contribution" this country has few shortage problems, she said.

Speaking of the changed attitude of the Canadian people in regard to rationing now compared with early days she said the W.P.T.B. considered this is due largely to the concerted action of its women representatives.

"You women have taught people that it is not smart to go and spend money recklessly to chase the extra pound of butter," she said. "Butter rationing almost broke down at one point because of this petty chiselling."

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Will I be able to obtain ration books for my son's wife and baby who have just recently arrived from England?

A.—If your daughter-in-law will either go to the Local Ration Board, or mail identification papers, such as her passport or her entry permit into Canada, to the Local Ration Board, ration books will be issued to her and the baby.

Q.—I purchased an Easter gift for my little boy. It was a small toy car, a few candies and a chocolate bar, all of which were wrapped in cellophane. I am sure the price charged was out of reason. Are these gift packages not controlled by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board?

A.—Yes, the prices of gift packages made up for special days, such as Halloween, Christmas, Easter, Mother's Day are controlled. The maximum selling price of gift articles thus assembled and sold as one unit must not exceed the total of the retailer's lawful established prices of the various articles assembled including wrapping materials used. No charge can be made for labour or assembling.

Q.—How can I pick out the manufacturer's number in the lining of footwear? My shoes, which I purchased a month ago, appear to be of very poor quality leather and I have been told that in reporting this to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board the manufacturer's number must be given.

A.—After January 1, 1945, all footwear manufactured in Canada will be given a code number. The number will be preceded by the letter "K" and will range from K 100 to K 346 inclusive. Reports on degradation of quality should be made to the Standards Division, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Ottawa.

Q.—Are garden seeds controlled by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board?

A.—Yes, there is control of seed prices. Prices of plants, trees, shrubs and other nursery stock is exempt from price control.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your selling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Driving In Fog Could Be Made Safer For Motorists

British automobile manufacturers are experimenting with equipment which will enable automobile drivers to "see" in fog and know whether traffic lights are against them long before they are reached. Sir Miles Thomas, chairman of the industry's public relations committee has been talking about the automobile of the future.

"Safe driving even when it is impossible to see the road is indeed a possibility," he said. "Curb heaveos, operating in conjunction with reflecting sets on dashboards, will guide drivers in fog." This would mean that motorists would be employing the blind landing technique used to bring planes onto an airfield in the dark. Brandon Sun.

The British Army

No Finer Troops Ever Battled In A Better Cause

If success is the test, there can be no disputing Sir James Grigg's claim that our army was equipped "as no British army has ever been equipped before." He quoted some observations of Field Marshal Montgomery about the superiority of our tanks over those of the enemy, which will convince everybody except, perhaps one or two critics who are impervious to persuasion however authoritative the evidence against them. When the Field Marshal says that if Rundstedt had been equipped with British tanks in December 16 he would have reached the Meuse in 36 hours, and that if the 21st Army Group had been equipped with German tanks they could not have crossed the Seine when they did, that must close the argument for all reasonable people. Whether it be in equipment, or in training, or in spirit no finer army ever battled in a better cause than the British Army today. London Daily Telegraph.

Druggist: "Yes; he's gone to your funeral."

Little Susie was extremely restless.

"Mother," she said, "I feel nervous."

"Nervous?" exclaimed mother, in much alarm. "What's nervous?"

"Why it's being in a hurry all over," the child replied.

He: "Why is it that a girl can never catch a ball like a man?"

She: "The man is so much easier to catch."

MacTavish, the salesman, called at the factory manager's office and asked to see the president of the company.

"Have you a card?" asked the secretary.

"Aye, lass, I have that," replied MacTavish, "but I'll na' have it handed."

"You say you want a job in this office? Well, what can you do?"

"Nothing."

"Why didn't you apply sooner? All those high salaries positions were taken long ago."

"Is there anything you fancy to eat before the execution?" asked the warden.

"Yes, mushrooms," said the condemned man. "I've always been scared to try them in case I'd be poisoned."

Judge: "It seems to me I've seen you before."

Prisoner: "You have, your Honor. I gave your daughter singing lessons."

Judge: "Thirty years."

Seventeen mothers in the village mothers' club agreed to decide by ballot which had the handsomest baby.

"Each baby got 'ne vote."

New Office Girl: "Are you a salesman, bill collector or a friend of his?"

Caller: "All three."

New Office Girl: "He's in a business conference. He's out of town. Step in and see him."

A London doctor was prescribing for a small girl.

"My child," he said, "the trouble is with our little tummy. We must diet."

"All right, doctor," the docile child sighed. "What color?"

Pat was engaged putting a water main into the porch. Saturday came and the boss saw Pat dutifully examining his pay packet. "Mistake in your wages, Pat?" he asked.

"Oh, no," said Pat, "but I was just wondering whether me or the water would be in the poorhouse first."

It may have been hung there by a girl who hoped to come West some day with her Canadian husband or by one whose British boy friend came to train in Canada. New Model Planes

Munitions Minister Says Production Will Be Continued In Canada

Manufacture of a four-engine bomber, larger than the Lancaster, will start at Victory Aircraft, Government-owned at Milton, Ont., plant, Munitions Minister Howe announced in the Commons.

Mr. Howe did not disclose the exact type of plane, but he said during 1945 the Milton plant would shift from Lancaster production to that of the new and larger plane which he referred to as the Lincoln.

(It was recalled that in London it was recently announced that Britain had started work on a new four-engine plane comparable to the American Superfortress.)

Mr. Howe also disclosed that an improved model Mosquito bomber would come into production during the year, and that output of the Curtiss dive bomber would continue at its present rate. There also would be continued production of the Harvard, a secondary trainer, and the Norseman, used as transport plane.

SMALLER POWERS MAY ASK SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE TO GUARANTEE BOUNDARIES

WASHINGTON A drive among smaller powers to write boundary guarantees into any peace-keeping organization appears to be taking form.

Such a recommendation will likely be made at San Francisco either by one of the Latin American countries, which secured similar assurances in the recent act of Chapultepec—or by a British dominion, probably New Zealand.

The demand for territorial guarantees would include a definition of aggression and go hand-in-hand with the expected United States proposal to empower the assembly of the projected peace agency to review treaties.

Adoption of the guarantees would change the proposed league's fundamental obligation. Instead of providing simply an international pledge to decide when sanctions should be imposed, the organization would be obligated to use the world's armed might whenever it was decided aggression existed.

The United States accepted the frontier guarantee idea at Mexico City last month with the reservation that the act of Chapultepec be made to fit into the proposed world peace system.

At the same time, several of the countries outside the four sponsoring powers, Britain, the United States, Russia and China, have worked out formulas designed to secure a larger role in decisions of peace and war. A strong reaction has crystallized against the original Dumbarton Oaks formula which would give the league's security council power to bind all members to send their forces into action.

One ambassador, declining to permit use of his name, said he is ready to propose that a majority vote of the general assembly be required before the security council could direct use of force.

Canadian spokesmen at the recent commonwealth conference in London were reported to have suggested that a two-third assembly vote be required.

SUBS IN COLLISION

British And German Craft Meet 60 Feet Below Surface

LONDON Collision between a British submarine and a German U boat 60 feet below the surface has been revealed.

H.M.S. Seahorse, commanded by Lieut. N. L. A. Jewell of Pinner, Middlesex, had surfaced at nightfall when a German sub was sighted on her starboard bow and coming directly at her.

"We immediately dived and went to a considerable depth," Lieut. Jewell said. "We were bringing her up to periscope depth when a collision occurred at 60 feet. There were three heavy bumps. We immediately surfaced and sighted a submarine's periscope 100 yards on our starboard beam."

OATS MARKED DURING LAST CROP YEAR BRING INCREASED PAYMENT FOR THE PRODUCERS

OTTAWA. Producers in the West who marketed oats during the crop year ended July 31, 1941, will receive an additional $8,867,004 from the oats equalization fund, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced.

This will represent a payment of 5,849 cents per bushel on oats marketed during the crop year. The payment will be made on 151,566,325 bushels, which includes 8,241,813 bushels transferred from farm-to-farm or farm-to-feeders and upon which advance equalization payments were made.

Mr. MacKinnon said that during the crop year ended last July 31, oats equalization fees collected by the board amounted to $23,912,449. Advance equalization payments amounted to $15,156,686. After allowing for interest on funds collected through equalization fees and after providing for administrative costs and payment expenses the balance available for distribution is $8,867,004.

Growers' cheques now are being completed and will be ready for distribution early in May, the announcement said. All cheques will be forwarded to country elevator agents for distribution to producers.

Best At Operations Requiring Dash And Initiative Says Montgomery

WINNIPEG Canadian forces in Europe are fully maintaining traditions established in the First Great War, Victor Sifton, publisher of the Winnipeg Free Press, said following his return from a visit to troops in Germany and the low countries.

Mr. Sifton said he had been impressed by the esprit de corps of the Canadian army and the atmosphere of mutual confidence between officers and men.

"I formed the distinct impression that Canadian front line troops are doing the kind of job which everyone thought they would do," he said.

Over 2,000 Were Being Held By Hitler

For Ransom

WITH THE U.S. 8TH ARMY Approximately 2,500 Jews held by Hitler for ransom have been liberated by American 9th army forces, it was announced.

They were Jews held in a special concentration camp and exchanged for German prisoners through neutral countries. Some were freed by letters from friends or relatives in North or South America.

The 2,500 prisoners were found packed like cattle in 45 cars mostly freight, in the village of Garschen. The Germans had been trying to rush the Jews to the Sudetenland from the concentration camp of Bergen-Belsen in the province of Hannover.

TREK TO TEST ENDURANCE OF MEN AND HORSES UNDER WINTER CONDITIONS ENDS IN SUCCESS

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. Canada's most ambitious army winter training scheme testing endurance of more than 1,000 men and equipment under winter conditions over nearly 700 miles of rugged terrain has ended successfully.

The two-months long "polar bear trek" started from this central British Columbia cattle town, crossed snow-covered mountains and wind swept plateaux to Bella Coola on the Pacific coast.

Officers in charge and observers from Britain and the United States expressed satisfaction with the success of the undertaking. Troops finished the long grind in excellent health and spirits. Co-operation between land and air forces proved itself under most trying conditions.

An army pack train of 117 horses, proved that mechanized war still has a place for the sure-footed pack horse. They picked in all sorts of essential supplies and transported 75 mm howitzers on travois, two poles lashed together and trailed behind the horse. Four travois toted one mountain howitzer over snow trails.

The force assembled last fall at Prince George for conditioning and outdoor training. In February they moved to Williams Lake and set up a base camp.

The trek started February 15, moving westward via Riske creek to Kleena Kleena where a second supply point and air strip were established. At Anahim Lake another supply base and strip were built, after which the force pushed to the top of The Precipice.

The drop down the precipice is about 1,100 feet and during the descent the temperature rose from zero to 55 above.

At Atlatco, the troops halted again to establish a supply camp, then went on to Stine where wagons were dropped by parachute, when the force pushed on to Bella Coola on the Pacific coast, 310 miles from their starting point at Williams Lake.

From The Precipice to Bella Coola, 70 miles, the troops travelled on foot. At Bella Coola R.C.N. ships were waiting to evacuate the equipment and the force then proceeded on the return journey taking a different route.

Various types of winter clothing, British, Canadian and American were used and specialized types of equipment for winter warfare were thoroughly tested.

RECONSTRUCTION COUNCIL OF GREAT POWERS IS NECESSARY FOR REBUILDING OF EUROPE

LONDON Sir Arthur Salter, the lack of the London Times, has called for a supreme reconstruction council of great powers to plan and co-ordinate the work of salvaging and restoring a shattered continent.

The famous economist who was general secretary of the supreme economic council, formed after the last war, urged that the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia should be the first and permanent members. But he also urged a place for Canada in view of her present position on a number of combined boards.

Behind the Salter proposal lies the conviction that whereas in 1918 there was "a continent substantially intact with some patches of devastation," today we face the problem of "a devastated continent with some uses."

As the London Times puts it, "there is certainly irony in the fact that a supreme economic council was set up after the last war when the devastation was mainly confined to 10 French departments, and that there is no corresponding body now when so much of Europe lies in ruins."

It is true that UNRRA is functioning, after long delays and under great strain but its mission is confined to relief and "rehabilitation" with reconstruction specifically ruled out.

"Private enterprise by itself," says Sir Arthur Salter, "cannot possibly suffice, nor even recommend help by the separate Allied governments. Liberated countries will not always be able to raise enough foreign loans to buy what they need nor, even if they had the money could they buy required supplies without the active assistance of the principal Allied governments. For the general world shortage of supplies will necessitate a continuance both of national controls and of combined controls such as are at present co-ordinated through the Anglo-American combined boards."

Sir Arthur Salter points out that the major supply policy until now has been determined largely by the combined chiefs of staff. But when "fighting stops, military necessity becomes military convenience and over that civilian necessity should have priority which the present system is not adapted to give it."

What is needed, therefore, is some sort of economic high command for the period of transition. This council, as envisaged by Sir Arthur Salter "should frame a general reconstruction policy of supplying governments. It should utilize and instruct existing bodies and combined boards and decide what assistance should be given by them to UNRRA. It should be in a position to issue or secure immediate instructions to appropriate military authorities as to any help required from them, for example, in furnishing military stores and motor transport and the transfer to UNRRA of personnel who have acquired experience in relief work during the period of military responsibility."
